

Rachael Beck is thrilled to be returning to Missoula Catholic Schools as the new middle school math instructor at St. Joseph Elementary. After graduating from The University of Montana with a degree in math, she began teaching at Loyola Sacred Heart High School in 1998. She taught math for four years before making the decision to stay home and raise her three children. Now that her youngest son is joining his big brothers at St. Joe's as a kindergartener, she feels the time is right to return to the profession she loves.

Rachael grew up in Shelby, Montana in a strong Catholic family. She is the youngest of Robert and Juanita Hasquet's 15 children. She enjoys spending time with her family and friends, walking, boating, scrapbooking and playing the piano. She has been an accompanist at St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church for 14 years.

Rachael says she is looking forward to the challenge of returning to education and looks forward to making a difference in the lives of her students. "The Missoula Catholic Schools community is an extension of my family, and I cannot imagine teaching anywhere else."
