

Stephanie Gilman is a second year teacher at St. Joseph school. Last year she taught K-4 technology part time. This year she is on full-time teaching middle school technology. She is excited to have new students and learn what they have to teach her.

Stephanie is originally from Denver, but has her ties to Missoula. Stephanie's mother attended Loyola Sacred Heart and Stephanie's grandmother was always a supporter of Missoula Catholic schools. Stephanie moved to Missoula to go to school and graduated in 2002 with a B.A. in education. She is currently working towards her graduate degree in education as well.

In her spare time she enjoys spending it anywhere outdoors, whether it is running, camping or hiking. She is currently training for her first half-marathon. She enjoys most of all spending time with her friends and family and her dogs.

What she has enjoyed most about St. Joseph school is the sense of community she has had here. It is a place where everyone knows your name. The students are great and the staff is easy to work with. I have also enjoyed how much parent involvement there is in the school.
